Horace Camp appointed executive director of Anson Group

A senior role within the expanding Anson Group of Guernsey has been taken by experienced funds professional Horace Camp.

A Fellow of the Securities and Investment Institute, Mr Camp is well known in the Channel Islands' fund industry and has served on the committees of the Guernsey Investment Fund Association and the Guernsey Branch of the Securities and Investment Institute.

Formerly managing director of Kleinwort Benson's Guernsey fund administration company, he brings with him to Anson Group a wealth of experience in the area of fund administration and management, having been directly involved over the past 25 years with the administration of a wide range of investment vehicles.

Mr Camp retains many of his past non-executive directorships of local investment funds and will continue to be actively involved in promoting the local fund industry as Chairman of the Guernsey Investment Fund Association's marketing sub-committee.

"I have been a fan of the Anson Group since its launch ten years ago. As one of the few independently operated fund service companies in the Channel Islands I was always envious of its ability to innovate and take strategic decisions quickly. Factors like these plus Anson's reputation for a quality service and happy customer base make it a pleasure for me to join the Board." said Mr Camp, adding "My role includes developing strategic plans for the future growth of each underlying business beginning first with Anson Registrars. As a Crest registrar in both Guernsey and the UK, with outlets in Cayman and the BVI, I see Anson Registrars becoming the favoured registrar for those companies preferring the personalised service only an independent Group is able to provide”.

Chief Executive of Anson Group, John Le Prevost, said: “In the past year we have experienced tremendous growth in our Guernsey businesses and also in our UK operations based in Fareham, Hampshire. Horace joins us to help manage and control that growth and sustain the momentum already achieved. In addition, Anson has always professed to provide clients with access to a strong management team steeped in fund administration experience and capable of delivering a superior standard of service. Horace joining us adds further weight to this argument. His arrival is a real measure of the success we are experiencing and we are delighted he chose to join us”.
